IRVING BACHELLER, the novelist, recently was the speaker for the Knife and Fork club of Kansas City, which club is similar to the Palladium of this city.

Old times—the ease enjoyed by the New Englanders of old, as compared with those of the present day, was his theme, and following are some interesting ideas from his after-dinner talk:

"We hear much of the drudgery undergone by the women of old New England—yes—I'll read an extract from the diary of Miss Abigail Foote, written in 1775:

"Fixed gown for Prude, fixed two more, carded two pounds of whole wool, mended mother's bonnet, carded flax, milked the cows, scoured the pewter, helped wash the dishes, did some mending, to bed at 9. I wish you would note that she went to bed at 9—talk about that being drudgery—where's your modern girl who would knock off at 9 and call it a day's work? Not at all—she'll stick on the job until at least midnight, and perhaps much later. Why, Abigail had the only luxuries under the sun—sound sleep, good digestion, honest weariness."

"Now, as against this, look at the makeshifts your modern girl must get along with. She must have the beauty of a goddess, the grace of a gazelle, the digestion of an ostrich and the endurance of a continental soldier."

"Now to refute this mistaken idea that ye olden New England lady had the worst of it, let me read an extract of the diary of a modern girl, written for one day in 1913:

"Got up. Neck felt like the string on a toy balloon. Managed to eat a boiled egg and some toast. (I would mention that none of these is mentioned in the diary of Abigail.) Hair dressed and nails manicured. Put a new ribbon on my dog and led him around the block. Attended meeting the charity committee and learned that there are many persons out of work. Went to the doctor's and found I must be careful about late hours and about what I eat. Lunched with Gladys—ate half a pound of chocolate and three pieces of cake. Came home and dressed and mama and I attended a lecture on insanity. Mama awakened me at 5. Went to Katherine's to tea and danced till 6. Home, dressed and visited pa and the dog. Went to Gladys's ball. Danced until 12:30. Home again—the car was cold and I wore slippers."

Takes Off Dandruff Hair Stops Falling

Girls! Try this! Makes hair thick, glossy, fluffy, beautiful—No more itching scalp.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable texture, softness and luxuriance. Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Advertisement.

New Minister Has Resolution Denouncing Police Department.

BACK TO STEERING COMMITTEE

Will Not Be Taken Up Until February Meeting—Nine New Ministers Join—Y. M. C. A. Men to Fill Pulpits.

A resolution denouncing the alleged wide open vice conditions in Omaha and the alleged unfaithfulness of the heads of the police department was offered for consideration at the regular monthly meeting of the Omaha Ministerial union by Rev. H. E. Hess, pastor of the First Memorial Methodist church. Because the resolution had not been examined and approved by the "steering committee," of which Rev. O. D. Baitly is chairman, consideration of it by the ministers was postponed until that committee shall recommend it. The text of the resolution follows:

Whereas, one of Omaha's prominent citizens has been murdered in an open brothel, running contrary to law, and whereas, for months these public dens have been running openly, and whereas, the heads of our police department have been unfaithful to their oath of office, and have knowingly of the existence of these places, having made a raid after the crime on no less than ten of these places; be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the Ministerial union, openly deprecate such unfaithfulness in public officials, and shall use our future influence to place such men in office as will be true to the public trust.

Comes Up in February. This resolution probably will not be considered until February 15, according to Rev. Grant O. Fischer, president of the Ministerial association, as that is the date of the next regular meeting.

The resolution was not read before the meeting by Rev. Mr. Hess, who proposed it only by title. He found that a rule in the by-laws prevented consideration of the paper until it had been reported by the "steering committee."

Nine new Omaha ministers were accepted for membership in the preachers' league. Three of these were proposed at a previous meeting and the other six at this session. They are: Rev. Frank Ward of the City mission, Rev. Charles E. Cobhey of the First Christian church, Rev. D. K. Tindall of the Methodist church, Rev. Frederick Pamp of the Swedish Mission church, Twenty-third and Davenport streets; Rev. H. E. Hess, who proposed the resolution; Rev. Arthur J. McClung of the Benson Presbyterian church, Rev. A. T. Lorimer of the Zion Lutheran church, Rev. M. Anderson, superintendent of the Omaha home of the Society for the Friendless, and Rev. C. J. Blomquist of the Benson Swedish Lutheran church.

SUCCESSORS TO ORKIN BROTHERS

THE REORGANIZATION SALE

OUR store was crowded to capacity today. The response to our two-page advertisement of Sunday was far greater than we had expected. But, after all, why should it be otherwise? We more than made good our advertised statements.

The public had confidence in this new organization—they responded nobly and were rewarded by bona fide bargains—money-saving advantages, the best they have experienced for a long time.

Probably no sale event of the entire year means so much to the thrifty shoppers of Omaha from a viewpoint of economy as this great reorganization sale.

Every effort was put forth to make the service of our store absolutely satisfactory today, but we realize that with such great crowds and the fact that we have not had time to get thoroughly organized, many shortcomings were noticed. These, we assure you, will be remedied as quickly as possible and we kindly ask you to be patient.
